

Peter Russell, BAsC, MSc

Peter Russell is the senior manager, Sustainability and District Energy, for the city of Richmond, B.C.; his team focuses on community, corporate and district energy programs and environmental protection. He is a trained environmental engineer, an award-winning Registered Professional Planner and an experienced sustainability manager, having worked with the cities of Vancouver and Surrey, B.C., prior to Richmond. Peter also worked with cities across western Canada as a consulting planner for 10 years, developing sustainability, land-use and energy plans.