METRO VANCOUVER & THE GREATER VANCOUVER WATER DISTRICT WATERSHED REGULATIONS

The following rules and regulations of the Greater Vancouver Water District, (GVWD), are for the protection of the water sources in the Watershed from pollution and from fire.

The policy of the District is to reserve its watershed lands for water supply and to exclude insofar as it can be carried out, all individuals seeking entry for other purposes or uses.

It is absolutely essential that people entering the watershed realize that the water supply is potentially vulnerable to microbiological and chemical contamination through their actions and that they make every effort to prevent contamination by complying with these regulations. Metro Vancouver's drinking water treatment strategy has been developed based on the protection of the water supplies from contamination.

Failure to adhere to the requirements of these Regulations shall be grounds for immediate eviction from the watershed and may result in permanent cancellation of entry privileges.
